MISCELLANY.

MORAL.

OMAR, the son of Hussan, had passed seventy-five years in honour and prosperity. The favor of three successive Califfs had filled his house with gold and silver; and whenever he appeared, the benedictions of the people proclaimed his passage.

Terrestial happiness is of short continuance. The brightness of the flame is wasting its fuel—the fragrant flower is passing away in its own odours. The vigour of Omar began to fail, the curls of beauty fell from his head—strength departed from his hands—and agility from his feet. He gave back to the Calif the keys of trust and the seals of secrecy; and sought no other pleasure for the remains of life than the converse of the wise, and the gratitude of the good.

The powers of his mind were yet unimpaired. His chamber was filled by visitants, eager to catch the dictates of experience, and officious to pay the tribute of admiration. Caled, the son of the viceroy of Egypt, entered every day and retired late. He was beautiful and eloquent; Omar admired his wit, and loved his docility. Tell me, said Caled, thou to whose voice nations have listened, and whose wisdom is known to the extremities of Asia, tell me how I may resemble Omar the prudent? The arts by which you have gained power and preserved it, are to you no longer necessary or useful; impart to me the secret of your conduct, and teach me the plan upon which your wisdom has built your fortune.

Young man, said Omar, it is of little use to form plans of life. When I took my first survey of the world, in my twentieth year, having considered the various conditions of mankind, in the hour of solitude, I said thus to myself, leaning against a cedar which spread its branches over my head: "Seventy years are allowed to man; I have yet fifty remaining: ten years I will aliot to the attainment of knowledge, and ten I will pass in foreign countries; I shall be learned, and therefore shall be honoured; every city will shout at my arrival, and every student will solicit my friendship. Twenty years thus passed will store my mind with images, which I shall be busy thro' the rest of my life in combining and comparing. I shall revel in inexhaustable accumulations of intellectual riches; I shall find new pleasures for every moment, and shall never more be weary of myself. I will, however, not deviate too far from the beaten track of life, but will try what can be found in female delicacy, I will marry a wife beautiful as Houries, and as wise as Zobeide; with her I will live 20 years within the suburbs of Bagdat, in every pleasure that wealth can purchase and fancy can invent. I will then retire to a rural dwelling, pass my days in obscurity and contemplation, and lie silently down on the bed of death. Through my life it shall be my settled resolution, that I will never depend upon the smile of Princes; that I will never stand exposed to the artifices of courts; I will never pant for public honors, nor disturb my quiet with affairs of state."

Such was my scheme of life, which I impressed indelibly upon my memory.

The first part of my ensuing time was to be spent in search of knowledge; and I know not how I was diverted from my design. I had no visible impediments without, nor any ungovernable passions within. I regarded knowledge as the highest honour and the most engaging pleasure; yet day stole upon day, and month glided after month, till I found that 7 years of the first 10 had vanished, and left nothing behind them. I now postponed my purpose of travelling; for why should I go abroad while so much remained to be learned at home? I immured myself for 4 years, and studied the laws of the empire. The fame of my skill reached the judges; I was found able to speak upon doubtful questions, and was commanded to stand at the foot-stool of the Califf. I was heard with attention, I was consulted with confidence, and the love of praise fastened on my heart.

I still wished to see distant countries, listened with rapture to the relations of travellers, and resolved some time to ask my dismission, that I might feast my soul with novelty; but my presence was always necessary, and the stream of business hurried me along. Sometimes I was afraid lest I should be charged with ingratitude; but I still proposed to travel, and therefore would not confine myself with marriage.

In my 50th year I began to suspect that the time of travelling was past, and tho't it best to lay hold on the felicity yet in my power, and indulge myself in domestic pleasures, But at 50 no man easily finds a woman beautiful as the Houries, and as wise as Zobeide. I enquired and rejected, consulted and deliberated, till the 62d year made me ashamed of gazing upon girls. I had now nothing left but retirement; and for retirement I never found a time, till disease forced me from public employment.

Such was my scheme and such has been its consequence. With an insatiable thirst for knowledge, I trifled away the years of improvement; with a restless desire of seeing different countries, I have always resided in the same city; with the highest expectation of connubial felicity. I have lived unmarried; and with unalterable resolutions of contemplative retirement, I am going to die within the walls of Bagdat.

PHILADELPHIA, October 26.

GENERAL ORDERS.

Head Quarters, 4th Military District, October 19, 1814.

The commanding general having reviewed the troops, avails himself of this occasion to express the satisfaction he feels at the zeal, ardor, and subordination which manifestly pervades the principal corps of volunteer militia, particularly the light brigade under the command of brig. gen. Cadwallader.

It is due to the corps, its chief, and the state to which it belongs, to say, that this brigade already exhibits a degree of discipline which warrants it will hazard nothing, and may promise itself much honor, in meeting an equal number of the best troops. The commanding general regrets that it is not in his power to say as much of the other volunteers and militia, some of whom at Marcus Hook have degraded themselves by irregular and disorderly conduct not to be tolerated. The general is constrained upon this occasion to add that officers who have not the firmness to enforce obedience and preserve order in their immediate commands are utterly unfit for war, and ought to retire from service. It is nevertheless due to most of the corps to observe that their deportment is steady and orderly, and from the application and intelligence of many of the officers and men, and fine appearance of all, the general feels persuaded that they will soon be qualified to beat British regulars, man to man.

But we must all bear in mind that we all stand solemnly pledged to our country to serve honestly, and faithfully to obey; and that obedience will make an army honorable and strong, whilst the want of it cannot fail to produce imbecility, and transform the best of armies into the worst of mobs.

The advance corps will consist of the light brigade under the command of brigadier general Cadwallader, will report directly to the general, and act alone under his orders and those of the war department.

Colonel Irvine's regiment of regulars will support the advance, and will likewise report at head quarters. The army of the centre will consist of brigadiers Spering's, Smith's, Snyder's brigades, forming major general Worrall's division, whose report will be made to the commanding general. The New-Jersey troops under general Elmer, form the left wing, and will report at head-quarters.

The officers and men of the 5th United States infantry, at camp near New-Castle, will form a detachment to be under the command of the senior officer thereof, and act under the orders of col. Irvine.

Fort Mifflin and its immediate dependencies remain under the immediate command of major Beall, the senior officer of artillery, commodore Rodgers of the navy, being charged with the command of the naval forces on the Delaware. The commanding officers of posts and batteries will comply with such requisition and conform to such arrangements as the commodore may from time to time think proper to make for the defence of the river. The commanding general has received the proceedings of the general court martial whereof major Stockton is president, and is under the necessity of rejecting the same. The punishment to which most of the prisoners were sentenced bears, in the opinion of the general, no adequate proportion to the offences committed by them; and light punishments for high military offences are worse than useless: the infamous crime of desertion particularly calls aloud for the highest punishment—

DESERTERS must be SHOT.

The deserters will remain in confinement at hard labour with a ball and chain until the expences attending their apprehension are paid, and until otherwise disposed of. The other prisoners tried by the said court will be liberated and return to their duty.

The general court martial of which major Stockton is president, is discharged. This order is to be read to every corps of the army under arms.

By order of Major General Gaines,
J. N. BARKER,
Assistant Adjutant General.

From the Boston Gazette, Oct. 20.

LEGISLATURE OF VIRGINIA.

Gov. BARBOUR has convened an extra session of the Legislature of Virginia; and in his message, he calls upon them to prepare for a state of long, if not interminable warfare. The following passage we have copied, as it sanctions the proceedings of our own Legislature, and may be considered as a compliment from Virginia, which being rare, is the more precious:

"Under these impressions, it is submitted to the wisdom of the legislature to consider whether the substitution of a permanent military force combined with fortifications around the places meant to be defended furnished with adequate trains of artillery, would not be preferable to calling out and continuing service large bodies of militia; a system as burthensome to our citizens as expensive to the commonwealth. Altho' it is readily admitted, that some difficulties present themselves in opposition to such a force, it cannot be doubted that, by proper representations on the subject to the general government, such arrangements might be made as would render the measure satisfactory to both governments."

LEGISLATURE OF CONNECTICUT.

The excellent speech of Gov. SMITH, we have not room to publish. The following extracts will shew what the views of that state are, in regard to our present situation, and what are the best means to protect and guard our rights:

"It was the expectation of the legislature, that the sums required for military objects would either be regularly supplied in the first instance, by the national government, or if advanced by the state, would be promptly reimbursed. I am compelled to inform you that this expectation is not fulfilled. Partial supplies were indeed furnished by the war department. These however, did not commence the campaign, and for a considerable time past, they have been altogether withheld; particularly from that portion of our military force called out at the request of the national Executive, and at the moment employed in protecting the ships and other property of the U. States. The pretensions set up to justify this transaction have never before been urged in this state. They are in my judgment entirely incompatible with its rights.

"Whether the state shall be defended, is a question on which I presume there is but one opinion. The most economical and efficient mode of accomplishing the object becomes an interesting enquiry. Whatever system of defence may be thought best adapted to our situation I trust we are satisfied that to rely solely on the militia to guard our extended sea coast is neither politic nor reasonable. It is a service oppressive to them and highly inconvenient and expensive to the state—nor ought the duties of a camp or garrison, unless in extreme cases to be required of them. The same objection applies in a degree to every other species of our military force as at present organized. Permit me therefore to suggest the expediency of raising a select corps, for the specific purpose of watching the movements of the enemy, and of resisting his approach, until the assistance of the ordinary forces can be obtained. The number of troops and mode of raising them, their particular organization and period of service, with the means of supporting such an establishent, and of meeting the unavoidable expenses growing out of a state of war, will of course enter into your deliberations upon this subject."

CAPTAIN MANNERS.

The conduct of this noble Hero, during the late desperate engagement between the Reindeer and Wasp, in which he gloriously fell, is the theme of universal praise. After having part of the calves of his legs carried away by a ball, he received another through both thighs, which made him sink for 2 or 3 minutes on his knees, but no entreaties could prevail on him to go below; and recovering himself he headed the boarders, with a full determination to master his antagonists or perish in the attempt. While climbing into the rigging, 2 balls from the Wasp's top, penetrated the top of his skull, and came out beneath his chin.—Placing one hand on his forehead, the other convulsively brandishing his sword, he exclaimed, "My God! My God!" and dropped lifeless on his own deck—The Reindeer was surrendered by the captain's clerk, no individual of a higher degree being in a state to execute the melancholy office. One of the Reindeer's men was wounded on the head by a ramrod. About half of the ramrod passed through his temples, and remained stationary. Before it could be extricated, it became necessary to saw it off close to one of his temples. The man is in a fair way of doing well.

THE ENEMY BELOW!

A gentleman who left Annapolis at 11 o'clock yesterday, states, that a ship had just arrived in addition to the force then lying at Tracy's landing in Herring bay, which makes the force now there, to be 3 ships, 1 brig, and schrs.

WASHINGTON CITY, Nov. 1.

PUBLIC CREDIT.

The measures which are now in a train of execution in relation to our fiscal concerns, are such as are calculated to invigorate public credit, and restore to it that tone, which, by a concurrence of circumstances, has been of late, somewhat depressed. Into the causes of that depression it is not now necessary to enquire, except to guard against it for the future. This is not the time for reproaches from one party to another; the one for what it has done to injure public credit, the other for what it has omitted to do to sustain it. We greatly regret, therefore, to see the acriminious temper of some party prints on this subject, which, are however, entitled on this subject to less regard than usual, because they are at variance, we hope & believe, with the sentiments generally of the federal party.

In addition to the measures to which the House of Representatives stand pledged, and which, will doubtless receive the sanction of the Senate, to establish a broad and substantial basis of annual revenue to sustain the credit of the nation, we learn it is in contemplation to organize an active sinking fund, on an improved plan. On this subject, we believe, there is no difference of opinion among the republicans, who are determined to omit no exertions to fix on the most permanent and solid foundation the national credit. They have ever been its most vigorous supporters, and have repelled with disgust the doctrine advanced by a venerable federal politician in his letters to the people, and from other quarters, which even went to the extremity of contending that a future administration might absolve the government from the payment of debts contracted by the present. In a spirit directly the reverse of that, the present administration of government, after having redeemsd nearly all the old federal debt, are providing before hand for the reimbursement and liquidation of the debt which they are about to contract.

Such is the effect of this course of measures on monied men, that we are proud to hear that the government has already obtained on good terms, without public advertisement, the whole, or nearly the whole of the loan, which, in consequence of the approach of the enemy to the city in August last, was then only partly subscribed. The clouds of delusion are passing away; the sun of public credit shines forth with lustre the greater from its having been obscured—a lustre which cannot be dimmed by the foul mists exhaled from the conduits of party malignity.

ANNAPOLIS, (Md.) October 27.

We learn by a gentleman who arrived here on Tuesday night, in an open boat, from Choptank river, that the enemy had landed from their squadron, about 1000 men, and built two houses for barracks, on Tilghman's island. He states they are well supplied with cattle, having nearly 400 head. We apprehend they have done much mischief in the neighbourhood. Tilghman's Island lies on the N. E. side of Choptank, about 30 miles below this place.

Oct. 29. The enemy effected a landing and carried the small battery at Tracy's Landing, on Thursday last. The enemy's force 300 men, in 1 schr. and 7 barges. Capt. Franklin had 70 men, and more are assembling, to check the invader.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

TUESDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 8, 1814.

The GAZETTE will hereafter be published TUESDAY EVENING. This change is made in order to lay before our readers as early as possible, the intelligence that may be received by the Washington City Express of that day. Should any news of importance be received by the Expresses from Buffalo and Detroit on Wednesday, it will be immediately published in an extra.

The "Northern Centinel," of the 4th inst. printed at Erie, Pa. says, "an express passed thro' this place yesterday, on his way to Detroit. He stated, that the principal part of Maj. Gen. IZARD's troops were at Buffalo, the remainder at fort Erie. The outer works of the fort have been destroyed."

The division of the army, which so eminently distinguished itself at Chippewa and Bridgewater, in Upper Canada, under the command of maj. gen. BROWN, has marched from fort Erie for Sackett's Harbour.

THEATRICAL ANTICIPATION.

It is usual, in a town where Theatrical performances are exhibited, for the citizens to manifest, by their attendance on the occasion of a benefit, their estimation of the several professors of the histrionic art: And perhaps there is no better criterion of judging of the talent and character of a performer than by observing the avenues to the Theatre crowded on his benefit night, or by witnessing the mortified and disappointed candidate exhibiting his powers to a "beggarly account of empty boxes."

On the present occasion, if high respectability of character, & pre eminence of talent can entitle Mr. Collins to the patronage of the inhabitants of Pittsburgh, it is confidently anticipated that his claim to that support will be practically acknowledged, and the reward of his exertions to please, will be commensurate with his merit. The pieces he has selected for his benefit, rank among the best of the modern dramas. The "Wheel of Fortune" is from the chaste and classical pen of the excellent and amiable Cumberland. The story is replete with interest, and calculated to rouse all the best feelings of the heart—the gay, witty and accomplished Emily will charm the polished circles of fashionable life, while the votaries of Momus, the laughter loving god, will meet with something to gratify their taste in the whimsical Sir David Daw, and the excentric and positive Governor Tempest—The Hero of the play is Penruddock, a deceived, disappointed, and melancholy recluse, professing misanthropy, while his heart is fruitful of benevolence. That it is a character well suited to the talent of Mr. Collins we have no doubt from his personation of a similar one lately. Indeed, the whole Bill of Fare pomises a rich treat to the lovers of theatrical performances, and we trust, that on Thursday evening, the benches of the Theatre will be crouded with a numerous and fashionable audience.

A Friend to Modest Merit.

WASHINGTON CITY, Nov. 3.

Copy of a letter from Capt. Warrington, to the sec'y of the navy, dated,

U. S. Sloop Peacock, New York, Oct. 30, 1814.

SIR—I have the honor to inform you of the Peacock's arrival at this place, after a cruise of 147 days, during which all your remaining orders of the 28th Feb. ultimo, have been executed, except that which related to the Naze and coast of Norway, which was omitted in consequence of that whole coast being under a strict blockade by a combined squadron of English and Swedish ships. Altho' the Peacock's success has not been so great, as we had sanguinely expected; it is a pleasing reflection, that our disappointment has been occasioned by severe weather, (with constant gales from south-west to north-west) which we experienced from the time of striking soundings in the Irish channel, until we left the Shetland Isles, and which had the double effect, of keeping in all their trade, and compelling us to be constantly beating off a lee shore. We were 4 days between cape Clear and Waterford, in which time we made but three captures, the last of which, as she was of little value we made a cartel of. On the north-west coast of Ireland we met with but very little better success, as the bad weather still continued. From the Shetlands we ran for the Ferro Isles, and then returned in sounding along the Irish coast, crossed the mouth of the channel, and bay of Biscay, and made cape Ortegal, between which and the rock of Lisbon, we cruised seven days, seeing in that time but 12 sail, 9 of which we spoke, and found but two of them English. From thence we run along the Portuguese coast, crossed the mouth of the Mediteranean & run within a degree and an half of the Madeiras, for the purpose of falling in with their West India and Teneriffe trade. On the 1st of Sept. we made the Canaries, and attempted in vain to procure water at Fontaventura and Lauzaretta, at the latter of which places we landed some prisoners.

As a supply of water was now indispensably requisite, I determined to run for the Cape de Verds, at one of which (St. Vincent's) after a week work in digging and cleaning out wells we obtained the requisite quantity, and then proceeded at an easy rate to the westward, steering alternately to the S. W. and N. W. to prolong our stay as much as possible between the longitudes of 20 and 40 west, the track of all their East-Indian, African and South-American trade. Not a single vessel was however seen in all our run, and on the 6th of October we made the coast of Guiana, at the mouth of Mariconi river, the next day we were off Surinam, for whence we run for Barbadoes, which we made on the 9th and continued cruising to windward of Dereada and Barbuda for a few days, and then steered for our own coast, which we made on the 28th, at 7 A. M. a little to the westward of Cape Henlopen.

It gives me much pleasure to inform you that from the time of our leaving N. York in March last, until our return, we have lost but one man (Mr. Denizen Baldwin, M. Mate, a promising officer) and that our crew is in fine health. I trust that you will not think we have unnecessarily curtailed our cruise, when I inform you we have but fifteen days provisions on board at short allowance. I enclose a correct list of our captures.

I am respectfully,

L. WARRINGTON.

The Hon. Wm. Jones,
Secretary of the Navy.

Total value of prizes taken $494,222.

We understand that Capt. LEONARD, the officer who surrendered fort Niagara, to the enemy last winter, has been exchanged, and is now under arrest. He will be tried as soon as officers can be spared from field duties for that purpose.

BOSTON, October 26.

LATEST FROM EUROPE

London papers and verbal accounts from England to the first of September, have been received.

A British expedition was certainly fitting at Cork—where lord Hill had actually proceeded to embark for America. The force to accompany him was variously estimated. A well informed passenger from England calculates it at 15,000; and that they would sail by the middle of September—the fleet (33 vessels) were separated in a gale on the 22d September, on the Banks; and in one of them he arrived in Halifax the 14th instant.

Appearances in England indicated that the Ghent negociation had broken off; and that their ministers would return forthwith.

Expectation was on the tip-toe for the results of the Grand Congress at Vienna; which appeared to swallow up all thoughts of American affairs.

Every thing appeared calm throughout Europe, except in Norway—where the war with Sweden continued; the mediation of Russia, Austria, England Prussia, for an adjustment, having failed The Swedes commenced the invasion of Norway the 27th July, with some success, Bernadotte at their head.

The last Spanish papers represented Spain as perfectly tranquil;—that Ferdinand had promised to convoke a new Cortes, and establish a new constitution; and that three large armies, under Ballesteros and Lacy were on the point of embarking for Chili, La Plata, Mexico, and Louisiana.

From the Boston Palladium, Oct. 26.

We yesterday received a Halifax paper of Oct. 15, which mentions the arrival of the ship Alexander and Mary

The Leonidas frigate, 44, from Vera Cruz, with half a million of money; and Æolus frigate, 23 days from Quebec, had arrived in England. Capt, Barclay, commander of the late British fleet on Lake Erie, passenger in the latter.

The following extracts from London papers (to Aug. 29) are given in the Halifax paper.

London, Aug. 23.—Detachments of the following regiments embarked last week for America—4th, 9th, 39th, 44th, 49th, 58th, 81st, 80th. Detachments of the following corps will also embark—1st, 3d, 6th, 21st, 39th, 41st, 57th, 70th, 76th, 82d, 85th, 100th. The transports will proceed to Cork to be joined by others. The whole will rendezvous at Bermuda.

Aug. 29.—The duke of Wellington has had his first audience at Paris.

An order from lord Bathurst's office, prohibits all Americans from returning to that country in British packets, without permission.

In consequence of the interruption of the American negociations at Ghent, stocks have sustained a considerable depression.

The Valiant, 74, expected to take out lord Hill to America, has been fitted on her main deck with Congreve guns. No time is yet fixed for his lordship's departure.

Bodies of Austrian, Russian and Prussian troops have been sent to Tuscany to embark for Elba; which indicates mischief to be brewing there.

The merchants of Bordeaux are fitting out vessels for the French colonies.

Madrid, Aug 9.—The king has prohibited the Judges from the use of torture, to extort confessions. Prisons are ordered to be made so as not to injure health, and prisoners are to be set to work. A decree against Frenchmen has been published in Arragon and Catalonia provinces where there have been popular commotions, where some Frenchmen and their partizans have been assassinated.

HALIFAX, (N. S.) October 1.

Fortune seems tired of favouring us in Canada—she offered us Sackett's Harbour but we disdained her proffered kindness—she gave us the means of a superiority on all the Lakes in that country—this too was rejected; and it was thought better to put Great-Britain to 100,000 pounds expence at home, to send frames of ships to Quebec, which will never reach their destination, than to gratify a builder on the spot with one thousand pounds more than those who were not judges, thought the work worth.

In the Chesapeake our troops are too few, in Canada too many, unless we know better how to handle them—it is one thing to row a wherry, another to work a seventy-four gun ship.

NEW-YORK, October 28.

The United States steam vessel of war, Fulton the First, will be launched at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning, from Adam and Noah Brown's ship yard.

A Spy.—Yesterday morning, a young man was apprehended, and taken before a magistrate at Flatbush, on suspicion of his being a spy. On examination it was found he was a British officer from Quebec, with his commission in his pocket; and from letters and other papers found upon him, it appeared he was recently from Canada. He was immediately put in irons, and delivered over to General Haight who commands at Brooklyn.

IMPORTANT DISCLOSURE.

Extract of a letter from a Member of Congress, to a gentleman in N. York.

"On a late occasion M. ———, had a long and somewhat unrestrained conversation with Mr. Madison on the subject of our foreign affairs; in course of which, Mr. Madison told him, that letters from Mr. Crawford at Paris, had given him some unpleasant information. That the Bourbons and all France were completely English, as between the English and us in the present war; that they would not hear a lisp of "the justice of our cause," or "or free trade and seilors' rights;" declaring that it was the old story of Bonaparte's, and had been adopted from him and got up second hand in America to serve a turn." Mr. Madison then added, the influence of England, had closed the ear of all Europe against us, so that not the slighest sympathy was felt for us, or our cause, on the whole continent; on the contrary, that there was reason to expect hostilities against us from another quarter." —[Meaning probably Spain]

Extract of a letter from a Member of Congress, to his friend in Albany, dated Oct. 16*th.*

"The instructions to our Commissioners for their late negociation were laid before us yesterday. They are very voluminous and partly confidential. It appears, however, from the parts of them that are public, that our ministers were finally authorised to abandon all the grounds on which the war was professedly declared. What other views and objects the administration appear to have had, will probably never be made known to the nation. This much, I can however say, that it is impossible duly to appreciate the conduct of our rulers from the documents which are published;—they have let the world see no more than they choose. I have a strong opinion, (for reasons I cannot disclose to you,) and I entertain it in common with many others, that the British government, in some way or other, had obtained a sight of the instructions to our commissioners, or a part of them, before they commenced the negociation. If the suppressed parts of the instructions to our commissioners are published, you will discover the grounds of this opinion."

DIED—On Tuesday the 1st instant, Mrs. HANNAH WARD, relict of major Edward Ward, late of this place. Mrs. Ward, through a long life, chequered with considerable variety, was always greatly respected, by those who knew her, and sustained the character of a pious and devout christian.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

STOLEN out of the pasture of the subscriber in the night of the 23d of September, a valuable about 15 hands high, with some white hairs in his forehead, is a long well made horse, good carriage, and moves well, about 9 years old, had a shoe off his right foot, his mane and tail were not trimmed. Whoever will apprehend the Thief, and confine him in jail, and secure the horse and give information or return him to the subscriber, shall receive the above reward, or for the horse only, 15 dollars and all reasonable charges.

REUBEN HOPKINS.

Goshen, Orange county, New-York, Sept. 24, 1814.

Since the above was published, the thief and horse have been traced to Dingman's Ferry, on the Delaware—a short time previously, at the Log Meeting house, he got the horse shod.

The following description of the thief may lead to his detection. He is a thick set fleshy man, of a ruddy or dark complexion, past middle age, fond of company and drinking, and is a singer—wears a black hat somewhat worn, dark brown great coat with a very large cape, a plaid gingham coat, black cloth waistcoat, velvet pantaloons worn thread bare at the knees, and common boots—he rode bright bay horse, about 14 hands high, rather low in flesh, which he may probably offer for sale; his sadde is considerably worn and faded, being a quilted deerskin seat and quilted down the skirts; his bridle believed to be a common snaffle; he had also a pair of portmanteaus, which had once been fair leather, now quite rusty. It appears that he has crossed the Susquehannah, and it is supposed is on his way to Pittsburgh, or some part of the western country. Any information of thief or horse, may be given to J. P, & J. W. SKELTON, Pittsburgh, or B. B. Hopkins, Philadelphia.

PITTSBURGH WHITE LEAD FACTORY.

J. S. Stevenson,

IS now enabled to supply persons wanting WHITE LEAD, with any quantity of that article, either dry or ground in oil, of the best quality, and at as low prices as will be sold in the western country. The manufactory has been for some time in successful operation, and all the lead now sold is warranted good.—Persons forwarding orders may rely upon receiving prime lead, as J. S. S. holds himself responsible for the quality; and also that the price shall be as low if not lower than any persons in the western country will sell at, and materially lower than the Philadelphia price with carriage.

The subjoined certificates from all the master house painters in Pittsburgh, will satisfy distant persons of the quality:

WE CERTIFY, that the white lead made at the factory of J. S. Stevenson, is in high repute in Pittsburgh; that we find it possessed of every property to recommend it being a pure white, covering and spreading well, smoothe and free from any grit, standing its colour and the weather perfectly, and we believe there is none in the U. S. superior to it. The reputation of the manufactory is indisputable.

GENUINE FAMILY MEDICINES.

BOSLER & Co.

Front Street, between Market & Wood Streets, PITTSBURGH,

GENUINE MEDICINES.

For the prevention and cure of Bilious and Malignant Fevers is recommended

HAHN'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS.

The operation of these Pills is very mild, so as to be used by persons in all situations, and of every age.

They are well adapted to carry off superfluous bile, and prevent its morbid secretions, to restore the appetite, to produce a free perspiration, and thus prevent Colds, which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a Cold, if taken on its first appearance. They are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness, sickness at the stomach, and severe head-ache, and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured for use by every seaman.

HAMILTON'S

WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES,

Which have, within years past, cured an immense number of persons of both sexes, of every age, and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from Worms, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This Medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar title, so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary, a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age & constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent, and so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady, or an infant of a week old, should no worms exist in the body; but will, without pain, cleanse the stomach and bowels, of whatever is foul, and and thereby prevent the production of worms, and many fatal disorders. The Lozenges are efficacious in taking off all gross humors and eruptions, feverish complaints, and the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasian.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a disorder which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is also the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a vast number when in advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in suoh cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance and a mild taste.

HAMILTON'S ESSENCE & EXTRACT OF MURTARD,

A safe & effectual remedy for rheumatisms, gout, palsey, sprains and bruises, white swellings, old strains and relaxations, numbers and weakness of the neck, pains of the side, head ache, swelled faces, frozen limbs and every similar complaint. It prevents chiblains or chopped hands, and the ill effects of getting the feet wet.

THE DAMASK LIP SALVE.

THE RESTORATIVE POWDER FOR THE TEETH AND GUMS.

This excellent preparation comforts and strengthens the gums, preserves the enamel from decay, and cleanses and whitens the teeth, by absorbing all the acrimonious slime and the foulness, which if suffered to accumulate never fails to injure and finally ruin them.

HAMILTON'S
GRAND RESTORATIVE,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of the various complaints resulting from dissipated pleasures, juvenile indiscretions, residence in climates unfavorable to the constitution the immoderate use of tea, frequent intoxication and destructive intemperance, the unskilful or excessive use of mercury, the diseases peculiar to females at a certain period of life, bad lyings in, &c.

HAMILTON'S ELIXIR,

Celebrated for the cure of colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, and approaching consumptions, and a certain remedy for the whooping cough.

HAHN'S GENUINE EYE WATER.

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or of accident.

The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

LEE'S OINTMENT FOR THE ITCH.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

DOCTOR HANDY'S,

WORM DESTROYING

LOZENGES,

A safe and efficacious Medicine for destroying and bringing away

WORMS.

MAY be used with safety by children of any age, or as common physic by the most delicate constitution, in any climate, without restraint of diet, or the smallest danger from cold. It may be given with advantage after the small-pox or measles; or as a family medicine, in any case where physic is necessary. The most frequent seat of worms in the human body, is the intestinal tube; but occasionally they have been found in almost every other part of the body.

Some very extraordinary cases of Worms, of an unusual form and appearance, being brought away by these Lozenges, have been made public in England, where the rapid sale of the medicine has exceeded any thing of the kind ever known before; and has also proved, to a demonstration, its approved superiority, as an athelmintnick, to the numerous puffed-up, useless nostrums, which are daily advertised in the newspapers.

A single dose of this valuable Medicine has often been known to remove half a pot-full of the Teres or Round Worms.

A few doses are generally sufficient to remove the Ascarides, a small white worm, the seat of which is either the stomach or rectum.

Even the Tape Worm, at all times the most difficult to destroy, may, by persevering in the frequent use of this medicine, be totally removed in the course of a few weeks.

To select cases, with the names of people who are not known here, and living at a great distance, would be useless, and take up too much of the reader's time. We shall therefore only observe, for the benefit of those who are unacquainted with the symptoms of worms, that they are known or suspected to exist by a pain in the stomach, attended with a sudden depression of spirits before eating; at other times, the belly is hard, painful and distended with wind—costiveness, head-ache, and trembling of the limbs, with a sense of something rising in the throat—pale complexion and emaciated body, with weakness and irregular appetite—convulsive, epileptic, or falling fits—pains in the back and side, and frequent itching of the nose, and sometimes of the anus. The above, and a long train of afflicting diseases may all be occasioned by worms, which are much oftener the cause of death than is commonly believed.

The above valuable Medicine is sold only by

J. P. & J. W. SKELTON,

at their wholesale and retail Drug Store, at the corner of Wood and Third Streets, Pittsburgh.

Doctor CHISHOLM'S Anti-Bilious Pills,

OF A QUALITY

Superior to any thing of the kind ever offered as a

GENERAL MEDICINE,

IN THIS COUNTRY,

NOW prepared from a recipe of the celebrated Dr. Chisholm, who, from a long residence in the West-India islands, has been enabled to favor the world with the most complete history, and most approved methods of curing all the BILIOUS DISEASES of those warm climates

This extraordinary medicine, which now for the first time is finding its way into general practice, has properties in the highest degree superior to the mercurial nostrums so frequently recommended by the name of Anti-Bilious Pills. The extraordinary powers of this medicine as a solvent and evacuant of bile, is without example; never producing debility, or injuring the health, in the smallest degree, of the most delicate child, or weakly female.

The BILIOUS HEAD-ACHE, so much complained of in this country, and in the neighbourhood of rivers, is often removed by a single dose, which, to a strong man, is only five pills, and to a weakly woman, three. The same dose will generally remove the most excrutiating pains of the cholic, like a charm, by abusing the bile to pass downwards in the course of an hour or two.

Two or three Pills taken an hour before dinner, and repeated every third day, will effectually remove those diseases arising from flatulency and indigestion, and by persevering in the use of them for a considerable time, the appetite will be improved, and strength and vigor will return.

Two Pills taken at bed time, with a cup of penny-royal tea, and repeated every second night, will effectually remove Rheumatic pains, wherever seated.

A single Pill, taken every fourth hour with a cup of flax-seed tea, will cure Pleurisy, promote expectoration, and relieve coughs and colds.

In CONSUMPTIVE CASES and diseases of the liver, no medicine ever yet discovered, has been known to perform such cures. Two Pills, taken every third morning, will be found sufficient, unless costiveness prevails; in which case, the dose may be increased according to the strength or constitution.

The Dysentery, Croup, and Summer Complaint on children, are soon relieved by a few doses. A single Pill to a child of 6 years old, and the dose increased according to their strength and age.

In Asthmatic or Phthisical cases, where the laborious breathing and great oppression, with faintings, are fast sinking the patient to the brink of the grave, a few Pills, taking one every hour, with fennel or pepper-mint tea, will often enable the patient to walk about in a few hours.

The above valuable Medicine is Sold ONLY in Pittsburgh, by

J. P. & J. W. Skelton,

At their Wholesale and Retail Apothecary and Drug Store.
